

Seal Surfer

mussels – a kind of shellfish that can be eaten molted – shed the outer hair or skin basked – rested in pleasant warm panic – to feel sudden fear flippers – wide, flat, paddle-like limbs used for swimming reflection – a picture made by a mirror or smooth water dissolved – broken up; disappeared reformed – formed again buffeted – struck powerfully; blown about mountainous – huge; as big as a mountain wrenched – ripped or torn away with great force surf – to ride on waves, often on surfboard swell – a long, large wave that moves without breaking swooped – moved with a sudden, sweeping motion elated – very happy horizon – the line where the sky seems to meet the sea or Earth concentrated – focused on; directed his attention toward sensation – something that is felt deserted – empty and seemingly without life quay (key)– a dock where ships are loaded and unloaded